Holiday Decorating Contest

The Columbine West Civic Association once again sponsored a Holiday Decorating Contest. Up for grabs – two $50 Gift Cards!! Winners will be announced in the February Newsletter.

Welcome Our New Secretary

Congratulations to Elizabeth Cherry, who was unanimously approved during the November CWCA Board Meeting to fill the vacant Secretary position beginning January 1st. Thank you for stepping up to help us out!!!

Volunteer Positions Open For 2026

As you begin to plan your Calendar for 2026, please consider helping out the Columbine West Civic Association with our activities through the year. We will be in need of a chairperson for the Easter Egg Hunt and our Swim Night. We will also need help with our Dumpster Day in June and the Fall Trunk or Treat. Come join us for a meeting and find out how easy it is to get involved. There are also a few Board Member seats available.

The National Western Stock Show & Rodeo

January 10-25, 2026

Each winter, nearly 700,000 people visit the National Western Stock Show, an extravaganza of about 30 rodeos, 11 horse shows, and countless other attractions just a couple of miles from the heart of Denver. For so many visitors from the increasingly urbanized West, the Stock Show offers a rare window into Western tradition and the incredible importance that agriculture and ranching industries have made to revolutionize our daily lives.

For many other visitors, the National Western Stock Show is a pilgrimage, a gathering of the extended family that sustains and defines the West. Since the first Stock Show in 1906, it has been a place where generations of farmers and ranchers – people whose hard work feeds the rest of us – spend time reuniting with old friends, learning about new approaches and techniques in agriculture and ranching, and doing some business, year after year.

2026 CWCA Meeting Dates

National Clean Off Your Desk Day

January 13 is an opportunity to begin your new year with a clean and organized workspace. Whether your desk is in a private or shared office, cubicle, home or a make-shift desk on the counter, having your workspace uncluttered and organized will help you work more efficiently. A clean workspace improves productivity and inspires us, too. It often gives us a sense of serenity.

Where To Ice Skate Around Denver This Winter

DENVER:

McGregor Skate Ice Rink, 1901 Wazee St., Denver

Nov. 28 to Jan. 25. The only option to skate downtown this year is at the McGregor Square plaza, near Coors Field. Admission is $15 for adults and $9 for children, including skate rentals.

LAKESWOOD:

The Rink at Belmar, 439 S. Teller St, Lakewood

Nov. 21 to Jan. 4. The Rink at Belmar is in Lakewood's shopping district. Admission is $12 for adults and $10 for kids, including skate rentals. There also are winter wagon rides around Belmar, which depart from the plaza where the rink is located. "Drinks Around the Rink" will offer beverages for sale from Great Divide Brewery & Roadhouse, Little India, Tstreet and Wasabi Sushi Bar. The rink opens at 4 p.m. on weekdays and noon on Saturday and Sunday. Closing times vary and can be found on their website.

ARVADA:

Skating in the Square, Olde Town Square at 57th and Olde Wadsworth Blvd., Arvada

Nov. 26 to Jan. 29. The skating rink in Olde Town Arvada is open seven days a week and you can skate under the lights of the Olde Town Tree.

The rink opens at 4 p.m. Mon-Fri and 11 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The closing times vary, as well as the holiday hours, and can be found on the website. Admission plus skate rentals costs $10 for adults and $7 for kids 11 and under.

EVERGREEN:

Evergreen Lake, 29612 Upper Bear Creek Rd., Evergreen

Evergreen Parks and Recreation is offering ice skating and other winter activities at Evergreen Lake. It costs $15 per person, or $20 with skate rental. Children 4 and under are free, or rent the whole rink for $150 per hour. Annual passes cost $200. The rinks may close due to weather.

PARKER:

Parker Ice Trail at Discovery Park, 20115 E. Mainstreet, Parker

Nov. 28 to Feb. 28. Located next to Parker's library on Mainstreet, this ice trail is one of the only in the country, according to its website. The rink opens at 11 a.m. on Saturday and Sundays and 5 p.m. on weekdays. It closes at 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 7 p.m. on Sundays. The trail is meant to imitate a frozen river or canal. People can buy day passes for $10 or season passes for $165, with skate rentals included.

AURORA:

The Pond at Southlands, 6100 S. Main St., Aurora

Nov. 7 to March 1. This rink is in Aurora's Town Square shopping center and is open seven days a week. The rink is open Monday through Friday from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. It opens at 11 a.m. Saturday and Sunday and closes at 10 p.m. Saturday and 7 p.m. Sunday. Admission is $15.50 online and $14 in person, including skate rentals. The rink is surrounded by the outdoor mall's shops and restaurants.

Winter’s Work: Rest, Renewal And Resilience In The Garden

When the garden settles under a blanket of snow, it can feel as though everything is lifeless and still. But in reality, winter is not wasted time; it’s a season of rest and recovery. Just like people and animals, plants benefit from downtime, and the cold months are essential for their long-term survival.

In winter, many plants enter a state called dormancy, nature’s version of sleep. Dormancy is far from passive; it’s an active survival strategy refined over millennia. When temperatures drop and daylight wanes, perennials, shrubs, and trees respond by redirecting their energy from leaves and flowers down into their root systems. This strategically allows plants to conserve resources during harsh conditions while preparing for spring’s explosive growth.

Winter does more than recharge individual plants – it also benefits the larger ecosystem. Freezing temperatures naturally suppress pests and diseases, keeping populations in check. Cycles of freezing and thawing help break down leaves and organic matter, thereby enriching the soil. Snow, often called “the poor man’s fertilizer,” insulates plant roots, adds moisture and slowly releases nitrogen into the ground as it melts. In this way, the cold season is as much about renewal as it is about rest.

Some plants require a certain amount of cold before they can germinate (a process called cold stratification) or flower. Many beloved garden plants, from peonies to fruit trees, require a specific number of “chilling hours” below 45°F to break bud properly come spring. Without this cold period, flowering may be sparse or entirely absent. It’s nature’s quality control mechanism, ensuring plants don’t waste energy blooming during unreliable warm spells that could end in frost damage.

Colorado native plants are masters of winter survival. Species like penstemon, blanket flower and pasque flower have evolved alongside our dramatic temperature swings and intense sun exposure. Their dormancy strategies are finely tuned to our semi-arid climate, where winter moisture slowly percolates into the soil while plants rest. By incorporating natives into your garden, you’re working with plants that have perfected the art of thriving through Colorado’s challenging winters, emerging each spring with a vigor that comes from generations of adaptation.

For those who love their gardens, winter can feel like a long wait. But it’s worth remembering that this downtime is essential. Resist the urge to overprotect perennials from the cold; many need the chill. Instead, embrace winter as nature’s way of giving your garden a chance to recharge. While the plants are resting, we can do the same – dreaming, planning and preparing for the vibrant burst of life that spring will bring.

What Clients are Saying About Duane...

The experience of working with Duane was phenomenal! He will tell you the truth, not just what you want to hear. He is methodical and calming—excellent personality traits that carry you through a trying time. The fact that Duane is an expert in the Columbine area is an added bonus. I would wholeheartedly recommend Duane to sell your home. Don't hesitate—he will take excellent care of you! J. S.

We would not hire any realtor, other than Duane, to find us the right home and to sell our existing property. During the process Duane became our lifelong realtor and, even more importantly, a true friend. C. & M. E.

Duane was the perfect realtor to sell the home our parents owned. He has extensive real estate knowledge and knows the neighborhood very well. Duane was attentive and his guidance was invaluable. He is easy and pleasant to work with and we are grateful for his guidance, friendship, and very hard work on our behalf. We recommend him highly to anyone seeking the finest real estate agent.
